VINTAGE 2020

BARBERA D'ALBA D.O.C. DONNA MARGHERITA

James Suckling

90/100

This shows notes of raspberries and strawberries with spice and dried flower undertones. Medium-bodied, soft-textured and savory with attractive red fruit character and a juicy finish. Drink now.

Falstaff Magazine

91/100

Intense ruby red. On the nose, fruity notes of ripe cherries and floral notes of violets with hints of orange peel and sweet spices like vanilla. Balanced, full and persistent flavour with an almost citrusy finish. Othmar Kiem and Simon Staffler

Falstaff Magazine

90/100

Bright ruby with a lighter hue at the rim. Delicate aroma with notes of fresh cherries and blood oranges, followed by a touch of violets in the background. Clearly marked on the palate, juicy, precise fruit, lovely cherries, smoothly tapering off. Othmar Kiem, Simon Staffler

Wine Spectator

88/100

Lively, evoking black cherry and plum fruit, with accents of earth and almond. Balanced, turning more focused on the moderately long finish. Drink now. Bruce Sanderson

VINTAGE 2018

Decanter

89/100

A pleasing savoury edge to the cherry and plum aromas. A juicy, easy-drinking style, with nice depth of brambly and cherry fruit, buoyed by vibrant acidity.

Great value – and perfect with a plate of charcuterie! Drinking Window 2021 – 2024. Julie Sheppard

Tom Cannavan's Wine Pages

97/100

From vineyards planted between 1959 and 2008, this is matured in 5,000-litre oak barrels and is darkly-hued, and immediatly smooth and silky aromatically. Black cherry is the overriding aroma, but with a polished leather sheen and little note of dried herbs. In the mouth there's that lovely juxtaposition between tartness and sweetness, the cherries, lip-tingling acidity and hint of briar and herbs adding lots of interest.

90/100

A polished, silky version, boasting black cherry, plum, warm loam and spice flavors. Suave and harmonious from the start to the long finish. Drink now. Bruce Sanderson.
